

RUSSIA CLAIMS U. S. HELPED HITLER

SPRING TIEUP
IN SOFT COAL
MINES BARREDCONCILIATOR SAYS
GOVERNMENT WILL SQUELCH STRIKE

BY HAROLD W. WARD
Washington, Feb. 11 (AP)—Cyrus S. Ching, chief federal labor conciliator, said last night the government won't permit a soft coal shutdown this spring.

Members of the Southern Coal Producers association were still yelling "foul" today.

They said Ching has practically handed John L. Lewis a loaded gun if a strike is what the United Mine Workers has in mind.

"Lewis comes into the negotiations with an ace in the hole," protested Raymond Salvati, a West Virginia mine official.

"If we cannot get together and his demands are such that we cannot concede them, the government would step in and grant Lewis what he wants."

"He knows that the only way the government can get coal to give in."

Ching said flatly the nation "will not tolerate a coal stoppage."

If a strike develops, he told the Southern Producers at a dinner meeting, "the government will step in." He added:

"In that case, it will be settled by somebody who does not know as much about the situation as you do."

First Step Taken
Lewis already has taken what many coal operators regard as a possible first step to end his present contract April 1.

He has notified the operators a dispute exists over his proposed $100 a month pension for miners 60 or older who have 20 years of service in the pits.

Under the Taft-Hartley Act, a union desiring to pave the way for a walkout must give 60 days notice. The government can still stall off an actual strike for another 80 days by using other machinery in the act.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Producers association says many operators believe Lewis will "drop the other shoe" around March 1.

Ching offered the operators little consolation. He said it is up to the producers and Lewis to

Ex-Mayor of Flint
To Face Graft Case
June 15 If He Can

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Feb. 10 (AP)—The 18-month extradition battle of ailing William M. McKeighan, former mayor of Flint, wound up in a truce today.

McKeighan brought the fight to at least a temporary close by signing in his Miami Beach, Fla., home a stipulation that he would return to Michigan by June 15 to face graft conspiracy charges.

He agreed to return, however, only on the condition that physicians find him fit to travel.

DIES AT WHEEL
Dexter, Mich., Feb. 10 (AP)—Gilbert Madden, 75, of Dexter, a former chairman and member of the Washtenaw county board of supervisors for 33 years, died Monday night at the wheel of his car, apparently of a heart attack.

Gambler Shot Down
Answering Bell At
Beverly Hills Home

Los Angeles, Feb. 10 (AP)—Tony Cornero Stralla, gambling boat operator until Uncle Sam put him out of business in 1946, was near death today.

Stralla, at odds with the law many times since the roaring '20's, was shot in the stomach last night as he answered his doorbell in Beverly Hills.

"Here's a package for you, Tony," Stralla quoted one of his two assailants. He said that as he reached for the package one of the men fired through it. The package turned out to be an empty cardboard box.

"I don't know 'em; one was thin-faced, but I couldn't describe the other at all because it was kind of dark," Capt. W. L. White of the Beverly Hills police quoted Stralla. Capt. White said Stralla was reluctant to discuss the shooting.

Los Angeles police said they believed the attempted assassination stemmed from arrangements Stralla was making to operate gambling enterprises in lower California. Investigators said that as Stralla walked to the front door of his home, he left two Mexican men behind him in the living room.

Officers said that Stralla may have been shot by someone acting for a group bidding for gambling concessions below the border. Police said unusual pressure has been applied for relaxation of Mexico's strict anti-gaming laws.

Beverly Hills detectives after questioning Stralla's visitors said they identified themselves as Gustavo Dato, a commodities broker, and Alfonso Rocha, an attorney, both recently arrived from Mexico City.

The detectives said Dato related that they had come to talk to Stralla about an idea for purchasing two war-surplus cargo airplanes here for use in operating a food-shipping airline in Mexico.

Physicians at Cedars of Lebanon hospital operated on Stralla to stop extensive internal hemorrhages. They gave Stralla three blood transfusions, and said the bullet, which entered the right side of the abdomen, lodged in the sacroiliac and was not removed. Stralla's condition was described as "critical."

Freedom At Home Comes Ahead Of Foreign Aid, Candidate Declares

BY JACK BELL
Chicago, Feb. 10 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today the United States can't afford to "give away" so much to Europe that price controls will be needed again at home.

Taft came here to begin a mid-winter hunt in six midwestern states for GOP presidential nomination support.

Accompanied by Mrs. Taft, he will invade Minnesota Thursday for a major speech on the home grounds of H. V. E. Stassen. The former Minnesota governor has challenged Taft to a battle over Ohio delegates to the Republican national convention.

In an address delivered at a meeting of the Inland Daily Press association today, the Ohio senator declared that individual freedom at home must be "the ultimate purpose of any foreign policy."

Taft, who has called for a cut in the $6,800,000,000 proposed by President Truman for the first 15 months of the European recovery program, added:

"We can't give away sums so large that they force controls and government regulation and high prices and shortages which threaten the very condition here at home we are trying to protect," he said.

Taft criticized what he termed the New Deal theory that a higher standard of living can be produced by "government handouts."

Over 450,000,000 Chinese Celebrate Birthdays Today

Shanghai, Feb. 10 (AP)—Today marked the world's biggest birthday party.

More than 450,000,000 Chinese became a year older with the advent of the lunar New Year. The troubled nation celebrated its birthday with a day of merriment.

In Shanghai, there were fireworks, whistles, clamorous beating of cymbals and drums, lusty thumping of washtubs. Everyone stopped work.

It was a day of reckoning, too. Everyone had a moral obligation to pay his bills. But many avoided their creditors. A favorite refuge is a Chinese bathhouse. Aware that many patrons dropped in for an unneeded bath, operators were charging the debt dodgers a double rate.

Explosion Takes Lives of Seven in Mt. Pleasant Home

Mt. Pleasant, Mich., Feb. 10 (AP)—The death toll of a Sunday morning home explosion mounted to seven—all members of Roy Wohlscheld's family—when the 35-year-old father died early today in Central Community hospital.

He succumbed to severe burns and multiple fractures only a few hours before the time (10 a. m.) set for funeral rites for his wife, Margaret, 27, and five children killed in the blast.

The explosion, believed by Police Chief Vernell Davis to have been caused by leaking gas, blew the six-room house to pieces.

Salonika Shelled By Greek Rebels

Salonika, Greece, Feb. 10 (AP)—A large force of guerrillas fired 12 mountain artillery shells into this city this morning, killing four persons, an official announcement said. The dead included a British soldier who died in his billet in the heart of the city when a shell exploded.

ANNUAL MARDI
GRAS GOES ON
FINAL BENDERWINDUP TONIGHT IN
5,000 - YEAR - OLD
FUN FESTIVAL

BY KRIS KREEGER
New Orleans, Feb. 10 (AP)—New Orleans went on its annual Mardi Gras bender today, celebrating a modern version of the world's oldest festival.

The people dressed in fantastic costumes, staged gaudy parades, clambered over one another to see the costumes and parades, danced in the streets.

The pre-Greek shepherds who started the business 5,000 years ago might have been a bit surprised if they had chanced upon the scene. But nobody would have noticed them—what with folks disguised as decks of cards and aspirin bottles, Gypsies and convicts, apes and ballet dancers.

Started Jan. 6

Those shepherds used to cut a goatskin into strips and whip each other about this time of year. They figured it was a good way to make the pasture grow better.

By various twists and turns, their festival was changed into the orgies of European carnivals. The French carnival celebration of Mardi Gras, with the orgy strained out was imported into New Orleans about 120 years ago.

Today—Mardi Gras itself. Shrove Tuesday, a day of fun before the Lenten austerity—was up a carnival season that started on twelfth night, Jan. 6. The festivities thus far have included a dozen public parades and several dozen balls.

The thing became a general spree on this final day. With all business stopped, the people crowded the downtown streets for the last parades. Many thousands of men, women and children were in fancy costumes.

End Jim Crowism
In National Guard,
Is Plea to Truman

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 10 (AP)—Governor James L. McConaughy has urged President Truman to end "Jim Crowism" in the national guard.

In a telegram to the chief executive, the governor appealed to Mr. Truman last night to "consider directing the army authorities to end compulsory color segregation within federalized units of the national guard."

It has been the policy of the national guard as well as the regular army to keep white and negro troops in separate units.

Governor McConaughy's message was prompted by an army ruling this week that permitted New Jersey to end segregation in its national guard units. The army emphasized that its ruling applied only to New Jersey, which recently adopted a new state constitution specifically prohibiting racial segregation.

Coal Miners Quit,
Complain That Pit
Pony Has Halitosis

Sydney, Feb. 10 (AP)—A pit pony's reputed bad breath has caused 150 coal miners near Newcastle to walk off the job.

They went home complaining the pony had halitosis. They were in full disagreement with their own and management representatives who smelled the pony's breath and proclaimed it free of odor.

The Daily Mirror said today the management had "offered to replace the horse or alternatively mix sweet-smelling musk with the shaft."

The miners haven't said yet whether they'll accept that.

Former Slave, 101,
Still Keeps House

Conshohocken, Pa., Feb. 10 (AP)—Abram Lee, a former slave, celebrated his 101st birthday by cooking his own meals and doing the housework as usual.

Lee, who passed the 101 mark yesterday, told reporters his principal concern is that Spring will come early so that he can plant his garden soon.

A native of Charlottesville, Va., Lee came north from his Virginia plantation after the abolition of slavery. He came to Conshohocken in 1889.

Transit Strike Tieup
Menaces Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Feb. 10 (AP)—Philadelphia's three million trolley, bus and subway travelers braced themselves today for a transit strike set for midnight.

The walkout—which would result in Philadelphia's third major transportation tieup in five years—was approved by a majority of the 11,000 members of Local 234, CIO-Transport Workers Union, employed by the Philadelphia Transportation Company.

The contract between the company and the union expires at the time set for the strike—midnight. Negotiations broke down last Thursday when the company and union failed to reach an agreement on the union's demand for a 40 cents per hour raise. Dougherty said the PTC countered with an offer of six more cents an hour.

Motormen and conductors at present are paid $1.12 an hour on two-man cars and $1.20 per hour on one-man operations. Maintenance workers receive from 94 cents to $1.48 an hour.

CINCINNATI HAS
RIVER ICE JAM

Blocked Harbor Menaces Estimated $2,000,000 Worth Of Shipping

Cincinnati, Feb. 10 (AP)—The worst Ohio river ice jam in 30 years menaced an estimated $2,000,000 worth of shipping in the Cincinnati harbor today.

Waters rose slowly in the upper reaches of the 981-mile-long river. They threatened to loose more jagged floes on the local harbor, damaged yesterday in the break-up of an ice jam several miles upstream.

Maj. Gen. Douglas L. Weart, Ohio river division engineer, described the jam as the worst in 30 years. He declared: "What the next few days may bring, no one can tell."

Weart said, however, the river was at least 30 feet below its 52-foot flood stage "and the weather bureau can foresee no rain of sufficient amount to cause any alarm."

A spokesman for the division engineers said that the Ohio was backed with ice to Augusta, Ky., 50 miles upstream from Cincinnati. Yesterday's break-up shoved thousands of tons of ice into the Cincinnati harbor, causing "thousands of dollars" damage to small craft.

Jan Prime Minister
Katayama Resigns

Tokyo, Feb. 10 (AP)—Given the nod by General MacArthur, Prime Minister Tetsu Katayama submitted his resignation to Emperor Hirohito today.

Katayama and his cabinet quit en masse with the explanation they were "riding a whirlwind." They will stay on the job until a prime minister is chosen by the diet.

Price Breaks
Are General;
Butter Skids

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—The price break became general today, hitting all commodities and pulling stock market prices down $1 to $3.

Grain slammed downward with the sharpness that characterized last week's drastic fall. Livestock was selling at yesterday's lowest prices. Cotton was down $2.65 a bale. Even butter, which had been at record high recently, skidded.

Less than an hour after trading opened in the Chicago pits all deliveries of corn were down the daily limit of eight cents a bushel. Grain had staged a one-day rally yesterday.

Wheat and oats dropped rapidly and several deliveries hit the daily allowable decline of 10 cents and six cents, respectively.

Lard dropped the 200 points allowed in a day's trading. Hog prices fell to a top of $22-25 a hundred pounds, the lowest since Jan. 6, 1947. Cattle skidded as much as $3 a hundred pounds. Lamb dropped as much as $1.

While the livestock market was sliding sharply downward, the grain market was pushing ahead.

KILLER TRACKED
INTO BADLANDS

Posse Hunts Man Who Shot Redlands Girl In Highway Holdup

Beaumont, Calif., Feb. 10 (AP)—Possemen using walkie-talkie radio beat through the brush of the San Geronimo hills today in a search they hoped was closing in on the holdup-killer of pretty school girl.

A hundred or more sheriff's deputies and special officers systematically searched gullies and ravines, believing they had the fugitive blocked off in Lamb's canyon. They figured hunger might force the hunted man to attempt to break through the ring of searchers.

Miss Winn was killed early Sunday morning. She and James Sloan Jr., 18, of Redlands, University of Southern California freshman, were returning to Redlands from a rodeo in Palm Springs. They stopped briefly along a highway.

Sloan told investigators that a thin-faced man, between 30 and 40, suddenly opened the car door and demanded money, then fired one shot when Sloan started the car. The girl died a short time later at a nearby farmhouse.

Sheriff's Capt. L. R. Taylor said the killer was tracked from the shooting scene about two miles into the hills known as the Badlands. Although the trail then disappeared, Capt. Taylor said he was satisfied the man was in the canyon area. Blocks were set up along the two roads leading out of Lamb's canyon.

Clash Is Expected
Over Bingo Games
In Detroit District

Detroit, Feb. 10 (AP)—Three Wayne county organizations, under investigation by one-man grand jury, were ordered today to halt their weekly bingo games.

The order came from police commissioner Harry Toy.

However, Larry S. Davidson, attorney for the organizations, said "we propose to go ahead with our bingo games."

Toy immediately retorted that "the bingo games will not be held."

"I have ordered police to take whatever steps are necessary," he added.

No Klan Parades
At Anderson, S. C.

Anderson, S. C., Feb. 10 (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan asked the Anderson city council for a parade permit and received a prompt and uncompromising refusal.

Mayor J. L. Sherard said that "no one wearing masks is going to parade in Anderson if I have anything to say about it."

Alderman James Cathcart blamed everything on the "political big shots in Washington. They are trying to stir up trouble here in the south."

Woman Found Dead
On St. Clair River

Algona, (AP)—Mrs. Freda Altman, 43, of Walpole Island in the St. Clair River, was found frozen to death Monday on the river ice. Canadian police said she probably collapsed while returning to the island from Algona.

SECRET NAZI
BE PUBLISHEDBLAME FOR PUSHING
WAR 2 PLACED ON ALLIES

BY EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Russians promised today to publish secret German documents which they said would prove their charges that the western Allies paved the way for World War II.

The Soviet information bureau charged last night that the United States, Britain and France had, in their relations with Germany, provided Adolf Hitler with the strength to launch the second World War.

The Russians said it was done by "a golden rain of American dollars" and by French and British diplomacy.

Reply To Marshall
The Russian statement was in reply to the U. S. state department's publication Jan. 21 of 260 documents captured from the Nazis dealing with Russian-German relations prior to World War II.

(The documents were published with the sanction of Secretary of State George C. Marshall. They said Germany and Russia agreed to divide Poland between them.

(The documents also said the Soviet Union agreed with Hitler that the United States and Britain should be kept out of Europe, Asia and Africa.)

Russia said its charges were supported by "important documents" which were captured by Soviet troops during the smashing of Hitlerite Germany.

"Publication of these documents will present the true picture of how Hitler's aggression and the second World War were in reality prepared and developed," the statement said.

"Hitlerite aggression became possible firstly because the United States of America helped the Germans establish, within a short period of time after the (first) World War an economic base for German aggression and secondly because the rejection of collective security by ruling Anglo-French circles disorganized the ranks of peace-loving countries."

All Moscow newspapers published the long statement in full, but made no editorial comment. The official statement said the documents mentioned would be published "shortly."

Indian Waitress
Beaten to Death;
Body in Car Trunk

Duncan, Okla., Feb. 10 (AP)—The slaying of an Indian waitress, described as Stephens county's worst killing, today spurred officers on the hunt for a three-cornered murder weapon.

The body of 26-year old Helen Beavers, partly stripped, was found yesterday—stuffed in the trunk of an automobile unused since Christmas.

County Attorney Hegel Branch, who called it the county's worst killing, said the woman's head was beaten to a pulp by 13 blows. Officers believed some special three-cornered instrument was used.

Branch questioned three men arrested shortly after the discovery of the body. Two of them were in a party the young woman left the night of Jan. 23 to keep a midnight date with another man. She was not seen again alive.

The body was found by R. C. Gentry, owner of the car. He left Duncan for hospital care in Oklahoma City at Christmas and did not return to drive his car until last Sunday. He noticed an unusual weight dragging down the back of the machine and investigated.

SNOW BLANKETS MOST OF DIXIE

Florida Tourist Cars Stalled By Drifts In Mississippi

Chicago, Feb. 10 (AP)—Winter kept pouring out a wretched brand of weather for most of the country today.

Federal Weather Bureau forecasters said temperatures across the country—except in Southern Florida—were below seasonal levels. The cold will continue, they said, although temperatures will moderate slowly.

Shelton states got the worst of the February climatic capers — heavy falls of snow, rain and sleet and a drop in temperatures to far below freezing. Southern Florida escaped the wintry blasts and the mercury hovered around the 80 above mark yesterday.

The New England states, upstate New York and the central states remained the frigid zones. The low readings today included 27 below at International Falls, Minn.; -19 at Caribou, Me., and -20 at Utica, N. Y. Readings of 10-15 above were reported in the Ohio Valley.

The snow belt covered all parts of Dixieland, with heavy falls in Arkansas, Tennessee and the Carolinas. Snow also fell on Alabama and in parts of Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia and Virginia. Many northbound Florida tourists were snowbound in West Point, Miss., and visitors to the Mardi Gras in Mobile, Ala., and New Orleans shivered in near-freezing temperatures.

Racing and Betting At Fairgrounds To Be Ended By Sigler

Lansing, Feb. 10 (AP)—Governor Sigler said today that horse racing and pari-mutual betting at the State fairgrounds in Detroit will be ended this year.

"We have got to get this solved by the end of 1948," Sigler said. "I will not permit a renewal of the racing license at the fairgrounds so long as I am governor."

Sigler's comment followed receipt of the annual report by Lewis L. Bredin, State Racing Commissioner, in which Bredin expressed hope that by the spring of 1948, a satisfactory group will have been formed to build a new race track and eliminate racing on state property.

Sigler said he understood at least two groups in Detroit desire to build a new track this year and that while he doubted whether they could get one ready for this spring's running he would insist that a change be made before next year's season.

Sigler said he probably would submit to the March 16 special legislative session Bredin's recommendation for a general revision of the State racing law. Bredin declared the present law is redundant, contradictory and indefinite.

When fire is in or around electrical equipment, never use water or other fire extinguishers until the electric current is cut off completely at the switch.

Mrs. M. A. Berrigan Life-Long Escanaba Resident, Is Dead

Mrs. Michael A. Berrigan, 72 of 906 Second avenue south, member of a prominently known pioneer Delta county family, died at 4:30 o'clock this morning in St. Francis hospital. Mrs. Berrigan had been in poor health, but her death followed only a brief serious illness.

She was born in Escanaba. Edith Brotherton, the daughter of Charles E. and Orpha C. Brotherton, June 9, 1876, and received her education in the Escanaba schools. Her marriage to Mr. Berrigan took place in 1903. She was a member of the Christian Science Society.

Her husband, who died two years ago, was a retired Chicago & North Western railway engineer. The family lived for many years at 706 Bay street.

Surviving are two sons, John F. and Edward M. of Escanaba, four grandchildren, one brother, Hugh O. Brotherton, of Curtis and Escanaba, and a half-sister, Mrs. Percy Pogue, of Marquette. The body was taken to the Allo funeral home. Arrangements for the services are incomplete.

New AFL Political Organization Still Hunts $20,000 Man

Miami, Florida, (AP)—The American Federation of Labor, still without a director today to guide its political activities in the forth-coming elections.

The AFL's administrative committee ended its meeting here last night and indicated it would meet again in Washington March 9 to discuss candidates for the $20,000 a year job.

Though without a director, the committee authorized AFL President William Green and Secretary-Treasurer George Meany to proceed with establishment of a nation-wide political organization. Chief purpose of the organization would be repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor act and defeat of the act's congressional supporters.

Former Senator Burton K. Wheeler, longtime friend of the AFL while in Congress, turned down the job because he said he could not give it full time.

Frozen pork will be fine in flavor if used within five or six months of the date stored, advises the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

High Court Saves Negro Doomed To Death Second Time

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 10 (AP)—A Mississippi negro, twice sentenced to die for the rape of a white woman, has his second new lease on life today.

The state Supreme Court by a 4-2 decision yesterday quashed the original indictment on which Willie McGee was tried because no negroes served on the grand jury which returned the true bill. It was the second time the high court had saved McGee.

Tried and convicted in Laurel, Miss., where the state charged the attack took place, the Justices reversed the conviction on grounds a change of venue should have been granted. Feeling ran so high in Laurel that National Guardsmen were called out to protect the suspect.

The second trial took place in the Forrest circuit court. A minority opinion by the two dissenting Justices said, "We are unable to see how the key fact that no negroes have served on juries for the past 30 years is to be obviated when the case is again called for retrial."

Daggett, Spalding Motorists Injured

Menominee, Mich.—Mrs. George Desjarlais of Daggett, RFD, is in Marinette General hospital in critical condition with a possible skull fracture and internal injuries suffered in a collision near Daggett at 11 a. m. Sunday between cars driven by her husband and Eugene A. Steinbrecker, also of Daggett RFD.

Others injured included Desjarlais, who suffered an injury to his side; Mrs. Steinbrecker, who sustained cuts and body bruises, and Vincent Wehns, a passenger in the Steinbrecker car, who suffered cuts and bruises while helping to extricate Mrs. Desjarlais from the wreckage.

The sheriff's department reports the accident occurred on County Road 358, about five miles west of Daggett, near the Cloverleaf cheese factory, the cars sideswiping each other while passing a side road. Both cars were badly damaged.

Two Spalding youths, Ray Fleetwood, 11, and his brother, Gary, 3, were injured in an accident at 5 p. m. Sunday when a jeep driven by their uncle, Wilfred Fleetwood, of Spalding, collided with a car driven by Robert F. Trist of Spalding on the old US-2 in the village.

Ray Fleetwood suffered a bruised leg and head injuries when he was pitched from the jeep in the crash and Gary sustained back and hip bruises. Both vehicles were extensively damaged.

Communist Labor Secretary in U. S. Ordered Deported

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Justice department today announced the arrest for deportation of John Williamson, labor secretary of the Communist party in the United States.

A department official described Williamson as "the most important figure in the Communist party against whom the Justice department has taken action thus far."

The department said Williamson, a member of the Communist party's national committee, "has been posing as an American citizen for many years, whereas he is an alien."

FBI records showed he was born in Scotland 45 years ago. Immigration service officials and FBI agents took Williamson into custody this morning as he was leaving his home in New York City.

Members Of Delta Guard Unit To Get War Victory Medals

At a special ceremony during the regular drill period at the armory here Wednesday evening, eligible members of Company C, 107th Engineer battalion, Upper Michigan National Guard, will receive their World War II Victory Medals, Capt. Roy Johnson, company commander, announced this morning.

Approximately 30 medals will be awarded at this week's drill, he said. Most of the men who will receive the medals already have procured service ribbons representing victory in World War II, but they have not obtained the medals to which they are entitled.

All members of the Delta county unit are reminded to appear in full uniform for drill Wednesday night.

Charles O. Oja, 59, Farmer At Sundell, Found Dead In Home

Munising—Charles O. Oja, 59, farmer in the Sundell community, was found dead this morning in his home, his body hanging from a wire noose, attached to the foot of his bed.

He was born in Finland, Feb. 19, 1889, and had lived in Sundell for 30 years. Previously he lived in Hibbing, Minn., and R. eming. He was a member of the Finnish Lutheran church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lydia Oja, one daughter, Mrs. Carl Perander, Sundell; a stepson, Waino Pulkkinen, Sundell; a step-daughter, Mrs. Eino Parkkila, of Eben; one grandchild and one nephew.

The body was taken to the Beaulieu funeral home. Arrangements for the services are incomplete.

Scouts of Troop 454 Are Honored At Lions Meeting

Boy Scouts of Troop 454, the Lions Club troop, were guests of the club Monday evening at the Sherman hotel. Lyvie Shaw, chairman of the advancement committee of Escanaba Boy Scouts, was the guest speaker and also presented the troop charter to President Cliff Vadnais.

President Vadnais presented registration cards to the troop committeemen and Scoutmaster, Louis Linden. Advancement awards to the Scouts were presented by Troop Committeemen Mel Trams and Arthur Pearce and Scoutmaster Linden presented membership cards to the Scouts.

The Eagle ring was presented by President Vadnais to Scout Richard Gilbert, who will receive his Eagle badge at the court of honor soon.

Piano solos were presented by Jack Courneene of Troop 454 and Richard Gilbert outlined Scout experiences in winter camping. At the conclusion of the program Scout Richard Oslund presented an entertaining program of magic.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m., CST, Thursday, at St. Mary's church, Hermansville, Rev. Father Lamotte officiating, and burial will be in Hermansville cemetery.

Rudolf E. Pospisil Dies in Menominee

Menominee, Mich.—Rudolf Evgen Pospisil, 71, of 412 West street, died at 5:20 p. m. Saturday in his home of a chronic ailment. He had been ill for a year and submitted to surgery last December.

Born in Czechoslovakia April 10, 1876, Mr. Pospisil, who was an expert sugar boiler, came to the United States in 1904 to take a position with the late Josef Kohn, owner of the Owosso and Lansing sugar factories. After leaving the Michigan factories he went to Canada for a year before joining the staff of the former Menominee River Sugar company. Since coming to the United States he also held the post of superintendent and manager of the Santa Clara, Cuba, Cane Sugar company, and also held positions with the Santa Ana, Calif., Sugar company, the Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sugar company and the Mt. Clemens, Mich., Sugar company.

In 1932 he formed the Operating company at Mt. Clemens and became its vice-president. Mr. Pospisil invented and obtained three patents on sugar processing devices, the latest of which called

Farm & Home Show

On Here Tomorrow

The Delta county Farm and Home Show, featuring exhibits and demonstrations of interest to farmers and their families, will open at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the gymnasium of the Escanaba junior high school.

The show is sponsored by the extension service of Michigan State College, with the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce cooperating here. Many outstanding educational features and instructive demonstrations are featured in the show, which is making a tour of Upper Peninsula counties this winter.

It is expected that residents of Escanaba and Gladstone as well as the county will attend because of the variety of the show. There are exhibits showing home design and decoration as well as those on strictly agricultural subjects.

The 4-H Club program will have a spot in the show and 4-H demonstration teams from Delta and Menominee counties will appear.

C-C Campaign

THE ESCANABA Chamber of Commerce will launch a campaign today to secure the membership of the relatively small percentage of local business interests not already associated with the organization.

In the generally accepted definition of the term, this is not a full dress membership campaign. The large majority of Chamber of Commerce memberships are renewed automatically year after year because the benefits of a strong, active Chamber of Commerce are generally recognized in Escanaba.

This latest drive is designed to enlist the support of newcomers to the community and others who for one reason or another have not previously joined the Chamber of Commerce. They will be appraised of the benefits of membership, not only for themselves and the business interests they represent but also for the community as a whole.

They will learn, for instance, that the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce is a leading supporter of all worthwhile community enterprises and that it is the driving force in innumerable activities that are designed to make Escanaba a better place in which to live, work and play.

The campaign that opens today will be a whirlwind drive that will be concluded by Friday of this week. The solicitation will be made by members of the organization who are thoroughly familiar with the Chamber of Commerce, its accomplishments and objectives.

Abuse In Pensions

THE TAX-FREE disability pay to retired Army and Navy officers is now under investigation in Congress and out of it may come correction of an abuse that has grown to amazing proportions.

Officers retired for disability reasons receive 75% of the pay for the rank at which they retired, regardless of the degree of disability. It is a payment made for life and on which the officer is not required to pay taxes. The setup, of course, is one that naturally costs the American taxpayers a considerable sum of money.

In contrast, disabled enlisted men receive pensions in direct proportion to the percentage of their disability. They are required to submit to examinations periodically to reveal the percentage of disability and if and when the disability disappears, the pension is also suspended.

The public's attention to this glaring irregularity was focused as a result of the Gen. Bennett Meyers' investigation and that sordid incident may prove to be the compelling factor in a sensible revision of the disability pension law. Gen. Meyers was drawing a heavy pension under the law, payments which were stopped when it was disclosed that the military officer had abused his position for his personal profit.

The system of paying 75% of an officers' pay as a retirement benefit for life regardless of the degree of disability goes far beyond the standards of justice. The system should be revised and the sooner the better. There is no sound reason why a system as generous as this one should be accepted for officers and an entirely different system followed for enlisted men.

Russian Mystery

IT'S ALL CLEAR NOW. Russian policy is no longer perplexing. For Senator Jenner of Indiana has cracked the mystery and come up with the key to Soviet strategy: Premier Stalin is opposing ERP because he wants to see it passed. That's what the senator said.

He figures it this way. Mr. Stalin knows that the United States, like a stubborn child, will do just the opposite of what Russia asks it to. So, by blasting the Marshall Plan, smart Uncle Joe thinks he can make the most reluctant American congressman hasten to approve it. Then America will pour billions into Europe and get everything working nicely. Uncle Joe will then step in and "loot" the continent.

Let's see how Mr. Jenner's theory applies to other Soviet tactics of opposition.

Russia opposes Bizonia and a stepped-up Ruhr production. Logical. The Soviets want a going German industry to loot. But what about Russian opposition to international control of atomic energy? What about the opposition to curbing the veto power in the UN, and to world press freedom and world civil rights and all the other things Russia is against. Does Russia really want all these things?

No, we're afraid Mr. Jenner's illuminating theory isn't for general use, after all. But let's see how it might work out in the specific case at hand.

If all works well, America will help Europe and Europe will help itself and in three or four years things will be back near normal. Then Russia will go after the rich prize.

It's doubtful that the prize could be won through political infiltration. Communism thrives on discontent. And we may assume that, if ERP succeeds, the people of Europe will be well-fed and prosperous enough not to want to throw over their governments and embrace the Soviet system.

So Russia will have to fight for the loot. But Europe will then be strong enough to resist. There will be shooting and bombing. Factories will be destroyed. Transportation will be blasted. Forests will be burned. Fields will be plowed by shrapnel and sown with mines. Russia will spend billions to undo the work of American billions. And the "loot" will consist of more destruction and discontent.

That's how Senator Jenner's interpretation of Soviet policy looks to us. He says he is "unalterably opposed" to the Marshall Plan in its present form. But the Marshall Plan may pass anyway, in something resembling its present form. If it does, then Russia's anti-ERP propaganda should cease immediately, according to Mr. Jenner's analysis.

Anybody want to bet it will?

Salute To The Scouts

THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA this week are celebrating their 38th anniversary, which makes it an appropriate time to reflect upon the achievements as well as the objectives of Scouting.

The Boy Scout organization is doing a remarkable job in community service, in teaching better citizenship and in combating juvenile delinquency. Scouts are active in virtually every worthwhile community project, doing their end of the job cheerfully and effectively.

The 1948 projects of the Scout troops are civic betterment, world brotherhood and safety activities. Their motto is "Be Prepared" and every Scout is taught self-reliance, virtuous habits, good neighborliness. America salutes the Boy Scouts upon the occasion of their 38th anniversary and pledges continued support, financial and moral, for a youth organization that is doing a powerful job in making this country a better place in which to live, to work and to play.

COURT CHANGES (Iron River Reporter)

Chancery matters in circuit court not requiring the services of a jury will be heard in the first days of Judge Jackson's term of court, departing from the custom of Judge Bell who reserved chancery cases for the closing days.

In making the announcement, Judge Jackson said the new procedure would permit opposing attorneys to confer on the opening days and arrange their calendar of jury cases, and that jurors would not needlessly be away from their work and homes while waiting for the disposition of jury-less cases.

Jurors and attorneys should welcome the change if it adds to personal convenience in any measure. The public probably has made note of the fact that the new judge is a practical person, kindly disposed to the persons called into his court, and ready to make such changes as he thinks will better serve his circuit.

Some of this kindly consideration may be charged against the studied thought a man gives to a new office, especially one of responsibility and prestige. Friends of the popular jurist say it is typical of his thoroughness and his compassion for his fellowman.

From the record of his professional service and the esteem expressed by his neighbors, it is apparent the twenty-fifth judicial circuit is again fortunate in its choice of a judge.

PET SPEECH PEEVE

This week's Pet Speech Peeve was submitted by W. L. Vennell, of Houston, Texas. He wins an autographed copy of my Practical Handbook of Better English.

"My Pet Peeve is use of the word 'literally' for 'figuratively,' as, 'I was literally frightened to death.' I have seen such writing in newspapers as, 'The country is literally alive with Communists,' and 'She was literally covered with kisses.' Perhaps you can help to preserve this word that literally means what it says."

Answer: Literal means "true to the letter"; hence, strictly true; in accordance with the facts; not exaggerated or embellished. Therefore, he who was literally scared to death is dead and certainly could not state that he had been fatally frightened.

The woman who declares, "My dear, I was literally petrified," should be placed in a niche in some statuary hall, for she has been turned to stone.

This use of literally, instead of figuratively, is called hyperbole (high-PER-boe-lee), "extravagant exaggeration." It is a useful and often effective figure of speech, but it can easily be overworked.

I should avoid the hyperbolic use of the notebooks, school supplies, books and clothing. It was bound for the Co-operative High School of Warsaw, Poland. It was collected at the Long Branch, N. J., high school at the suggestion of the biology and chemistry instructor, Miss Gertrude Mae Abbott. First Miss Abbott persuaded her fellow-teachers to "adopt" the faculty of the Warsaw high. Then the Long Beach student council decided to "adopt" Warsaw high.

Collection boxes were put in each assembly room. It wasn't long before they had five crates of school supplies. Shipping was handled free by the Polish consulate in New York. If the first shipment goes through all right, Long Branch will repeat in March.

"It has done a lot of good here," Miss Abbott writes to Robert Stanforth, deputy director of the Commission for International Education Reconstruction, here in Washington. "I feel that if every school knew they could work through agencies for shipment, a lot of schools would help definite schools."

HAVE GIVEN SCHOOL AID

What has happened in Long Branch may not be the most thrilling news in the world, but it is typical of what has been going on in hundreds of U. S. communities for over two years, with very little recognition. All these separate donations have never been rounded up into the big national story which they really make. In all, nearly $150,000 worth of school aid has been furnished by big-hearted Americans since the end of the war. And the job of rebuilding the old world's war-torn school system is just beginning.

The $150,000 worth of aid furnished so far just scratches the surface of real need, says Harold E. Snyder, CIER director. The need, according to UNESCO—the United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization—is as great as 47,000 blackboards, 52,000 pieces of chalk, 200,000,000 pencils, 83,000,000 pens, 6,000 atlases, 64,000 maps, 21,000 tons of paper for notebooks and textbooks, 300,000 benches, 300,000 chairs and 3,000,000 desks.

Some 300 private American social, charitable, educational and religious organizations, with CIER guidance, have tackled this problem and are driving away at it, all over Europe and Asia.

Last June, instead of planting ivy or hanging a picture on the classic halls, some 130 graduating classes of U. S. high schools and colleges made their "memorials" in the form of gifts to specified war - damaged schools. They ranged from $600 collected at Iowa City, Ia., high to $5, collected by a troop of Camp Fire Girls on a South Dakota Indian reservation.

The Church of the Brethren sent 50 instructors to train tractor operators in the Yellow River valley of China. Massachusetts Institute of Technology is bringing over 80 European science students for summer school, paying all expenses.

ASSISTED BY AMERICANS

The American Dental Association is planning to send an instructor to help train badly-needed dentists. The Unitarian Service Committee has sent traveling medical faculties to Italy, Austria, Poland and Czechoslovakia, to bring doctors up to date on medical science.

Youth groups of San Francisco are organizing to adopt a town. Evansville, Ind., civic organizations raised money to provide scholarships for foreign students at Evansville college.

At College Park, Md., this coming May and June, will be held the first international seminar of educators, to exchange information on trends and methods. Fifteen countries have accepted thus far, including some from behind the Iron Curtain.

So, while the lawmakers and the statesmen wrinkle their brows and argue endlessly on how much to spend and what to do about aiding world reconstruction, perhaps a million or more Americans have already taken the situation in hand, and are doing something about it. Again, it demonstrates how the little people of the United States can out-think the master minds, moving way ahead of them, showing them the way.

It may not be big news, but it offers a little hope for eventual peace through education in a nasty, war-torn and still too war-like world.

word literally in serious speech and writing. "I was frightened to death" is exaggeration enough without exaggerating the exaggeration by declaring that it is literally true.

Literal and literally are valuable and indispensable words. We should preserve them in their true and literal meaning. Using them to affirm the literality of that which is not literal greatly weakens the words when we need them in their true and proper sense.

How much better and stronger it is to say: I was nearly (almost, all but, well-nigh) frightened to death!

Do you know what is meant by the term "split infinitive"? Do you believe the superstition that the split infinitive is incorrect? You'll want Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-17.

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

STRAITS TUNNEL — About fourteen years ago in the city of Menominee we met T. R. (Tom) Hasley. He was Menominee's city engineer, and he may still be so far as we know.

Tom is now, we would estimate, at least in his 70's and is described as "the dean of civil engineers in the Upper Peninsula."

Forty years ago, fourteen years and today, Tom Hasley was and is interested in devising a method of uniting the lower and upper peninsulas of Michigan.

And in the event you haven't heard, there is about three and one-half miles of water separating the two peninsulas at the Straits of Mackinac. For more than a century men have dreamed and planned ways to connect the peninsula with something other than boat transportation. So far it has not materialized. Some men have advocated a bridge at the Straits. Tom Hasley says that it can be and should be a tunnel.

HAS A PLAN—Hasley says that an underwater roadway across the Straits can be constructed; that it would be "perfectly safe for ages to come from an engineering standpoint; and that its cost (based on the 1947 inflated price levels) would be approximately $25,000,000. Convinced that there is no flaw in his findings, Hasley laid his plans before the Mackinac Straits committee, which has its headquarters in Sault Ste. Marie.

Hasley reports that he agrees with those who say that ferry boats and railroad car ferries will never be adequate for the interpeninsula transportation needs of Michigan. More than a million motorists crossed the Straits on boats in 1947. And yet the bulk of the buying for Upper Peninsula needs is done, not with lower Michigan manufacturers and dealers, but in Wisconsin and Chicago.

ON THE BOTTOM—The Hasley plan in brief is to make a fill at the extreme bottom of the Straits. Then two tubes of the roadway would be laid on the floor of the Straits and across the filled ravine. Great concrete supports for the tubes would be floated on barges and sunk in line in proper position.

Depth of the sunken roadway would not exceed 100 feet and would slope gradually to the two shores. The cost, says Engineer Hasley, would hardly exceed five per cent of the cost of a bored tunnel and would be safer. The tubes would provide one-way traffic, one north and one south.

UNDISTURBED —All calculations as to water and ice pressure have been taken into consideration by Hasley. He points out that the maximum surface water velocity in the Straits is three feet per second but at the depth of 100 feet it is only a small fraction over 100 feet per second.

Replying to the assertion that heavy storms sweep the Straits, Hasley said that these affect only the surface water, and a little distance below. "For instance, a wave ten feet high and 32 feet long will move the water only six inches at a depth of ten feet."

LESS COSTLY—"I notice that a very prominent engineer (State Highway Commissioner Ziegler) made the off-hand statement that

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Miss Anne Michaud has left for Milwaukee where she is enrolled for study at Elliott-Fisher Commercial school.

Munising—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dale are the parents of a 10-pound baby boy born Jan. 31.

Manistique—Miss Corinne Olson, employed at Lansing, has been named "Our Popular Girl" by the Michigan State Digest which recently conducted a popularity contest. Miss Olson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Olson.

Gladstone—Donald Gazley has returned to his studies in the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor after spending the mid-semester vacation with his parents.

Manistique—John Kelly, principal of Manistique high school, has again been named chairman of the 30th senatorial district Alumni Scholarship committee of Michigan State college.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Guy H. Ramsay, a former Escanaban and vice-president of the National Pole and Treating company in Minneapolis has been elected president of the Northwestern Cedar Men's association.

Manistique—Patrick McPhee, aged resident pioneer of Garden, died at his home Feb. 8, at the age of 82.

Gladstone—Donald Cavouille, Rene Hamlin and Walter Tang have left for Chicago where they will be employed.

Gladstone—John Stambulich has arrived from Milwaukee to visit with his mother, Mrs. Gregory Stambulich.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dady have left for an extended trip in Florida.

a bridge as has been proposed would cost $30,000,000."

Hasley's proposed tunnel, he declares, would not exceed $25,000,000.

"The subaqueous highway is, of course, one of great magnitude, but of comparative simplicity, not requiring very much highly specialized work."

OTHER TUNNELS—The construction of sub-aqueous tunnels has achieved such a level of feasibility among engineers that they have even proposed them as an undersea connection between England and France; beneath the Straits of Gibraltar linking the Spanish Coast and North Africa; and even to connect Alaska and Siberia. Military considerations of national defense have always arisen to block such projects.

The method proposed by Hasley for constructing a tunnel under the Straits of Mackinac is similar to that used in building the subway tunnels under the Harlem River in New York.

The Holland tunnels under the Hudson river in New York are 9,000 feet long; the River Mersey vehicular tunnel between Liverpool and Birkenhead, England, is a little less than three miles long. This tunnel is the largest in the world and carries four lanes of vehicular traffic and two footwalks.

In this age of engineering marvels there is no reason why the Straits cannot be tunneled or bridged. The principal obstacle is the lack of unified demand for it. There must be a meeting of minds in Michigan before the two peninsulas can be joined.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Secretary of State George Marshall did some plain talking on the "philosophy" behind his European recovery plan at a recent meeting with representatives of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Junior Chamber spokesmen had suggested to Marshall that the United States invite outstanding young farmers of other nations to an annual exposition for the exchange of information on livestock breeding, soil conservation and other farm techniques.

"That sounds like an idea worth considering," responded the secretary of state. "It's in line with what we are trying to do—helping others to help themselves. There has been a lot of misunderstanding in Congress and elsewhere about our European reconstruction program."

"The job before us is not so much putting oil in heaters or food on the tables of people less fortunate than ourselves. It is to encourage others, to give them the incentive to improve their economic condition. We supply the tools, so to speak, but they do the work themselves."

Nobody can truthfully call that "Yankee imperialism," said Marshall.

"I remember showing some American films when I was in China," he added. "One was a picture called 'State Fair,' about a typical farming community in the Midwest. I showed it in a courtyard one night to some Chinese government officials. They were simply amazed that American farmers could work such vast tracts of land, produce so much, and still have time to relax and enjoy themselves."

"Chinese farmers have to work practically all the time to eke an existence out of their little patches of land. We've got to help them and others to raise their standards. In doing so, we produce world peace and understanding."

PRIZES TO FARMERS

One of Marshall's callers, Gregory Dozier, a young rancher of Texarkana, Arkansas, suggested that, under the Junior Chamber's plan, prizes might be awarded to young farmers who have made important contributions to agriculture in other countries. But the big inducement, he said, would be a trip to the United States.

"Say, for instance, 10 youths in a small farming community in Italy are competing for the trip," explained Dozier. "The whole community will get into the spirit, and better production is bound to result. This ties right in with your efforts, under the Marshall plan, to help others help themselves."

"However, our main objective is to promote friendship and better understanding between farmers of the United States and other countries. The Junior Chamber is convinced that its plan will accomplish this."

"I think you have a great idea," responded Marshall. "The state department is going to give it some serious thought."

PEOPLE'S ARMY FOR PEACE

Last December this columnist tossed out the idea that one good way to get behind the iron curtain and win friends for the U. S. A. was to write letters to relatives in Europe.

Relatives are inclined to believe what their kinkfolk say. And if word comes by letter that the U. S. A. isn't all that the Commie radio says it is, that it isn't looking for war, and would chiefly like to see a stable, prosperous United States of Europe, then those relatives are likely to believe the true facts.

Various people have acted on this suggestion and so effectively that some of the Communist newspapers in Europe are yelling "Uncle!" They want the letter barrage to cease.

Most effective inspirer of letters has been Generoso Pope, the Italian - American newspaper publisher in New York, who has organized letter-writing clubs and committees among Italian - Americans throughout the U. S. A. He estimates that perhaps 2,000,000 letters have now been written to Italy alone. No wonder the Commie press is howling!

Equally effective can be letters written to Poland, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia—the countries just inside the iron curtain.

These are some of the real weapons of peace. Whether the state department is voted new propaganda funds or not, individual Americans can automatically enlist in the people's army for peace by getting busy in all sorts of ways to build up American friendship.

GRAIN MARKET FEUDSTER

Three-hundred-pound Isidore Ginsberg, the alleged grain marketeer, broke off the joint congressional housing committee hearing the other day and promised to pay up all claims against him if the committee would call off an indictment being prepared by the district attorney in Queens county, N. Y.

Wisconsin Senator Joe McCarthy explained the committee has no power to call off a criminal action.

"But," the senator reflected, "if you also promise to quit the grain market, we won't furnish the district attorney with any information against you."

Ginsberg thought over the proposition for a moment, then decided it was not enough guarantee against prosecution. Without further comment he waddled back to the hearing room to take up the feud where it left off.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

New York, (AP)—I want to tell you about a book that may affect your life and the lives of your children.

It is a book without a plot. It has no hero or heroine and no love interest—except maybe love of country. It has no happy ending, because it ends on the note that we are just beginning.

The book is "Airborne Warfare" and it is published by the Infantry Journal Press, whose volumes for one reason or another don't hit many drugstore book counters.

Next War's Blueprint

Maj. Gen. "Slim Jim" Gavin wrote the book. It is a kind of blueprint of World War Three—if and when—which may rank in time with the historic book on armored warfare written by an obscure French captain, Charles DeGaulle, before the outbreak of World War Two.

"Slim Jim" is a kind of military Horatio Alger. A steel-willed man with a pleasant grin, he enlisted in the Army at 17 and at 37 became commander of the famed 82nd airborne division.

He has a great battle record and is a cool and sensible man. He was respected and liked by his troops—the hard-bitten paratroop kids who had as their merry motto: "Anybody who hesitates to attack a pillbox or kiss a pretty girl is a coward."

Gavin thinks the danger of the military mind lies in spending its time now learning how to fight the last war better. On the other hand he doesn't think war in the foreseeable future will be merely a matter of pushbuttons. He believes the man who pulls the trigger will still be needed—but he wants to put wings on all the walking soldiers.

Florida Beachhead

"The future of our armed forces is in the air," he says, "all fighting men and everything they need to fight with in the future and live on as they fight must be capable of movement by air."

Gavin believes that an enemy attack would begin with a bombardment of guided missiles, followed in six minutes to six hours by airborne landings. He says the Florida peninsula could be cut off by little more than one division, thus removing Miami and Palm Beach from the American scene.

"The only possible certain antidote is an airborne force prepared to counterattack and isolate or destroy enemy forces . . ."

His sober conclusion: "The nation that in the future has the best trained and equipped airborne forces has the best chance of survival. And the nation or nations that control the air will control the peace."

COLLEGE ISN'T LIKE OLD DAYS

Ruark Discovers Pupils
Are Serious About
Studies Now

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Chapel Hill, N. C.—Seventeen years ago a fat freshman by the name of Ruark enrolled in the University of North Carolina here. He was confident and cocky then. He is confused and uncertain now.

Ruark

This is the first good look I've had at the school since they sprung me in 1935. I remembered it as a place of pastoral calm, with the silence broken only by the screams of the coeds, as the boys chased them through the arboretum.

Everybody was so busted in those days everybody was reasonably happy. The only cars on the campus belonged to professors with rich wives and to a few kids at the Kappa House. Dogs slept in the streets and people walked down the middle of them, stepping carefully around the dogs. There were about 200 students, and just enough villagers to keep us fed, clad and supplied with nutritious cornsqueezings, which retailed at 50 cents the pint and was guaranteed to paralyze. There was about one female to every 20 men, which made for lively competition.

7000 Students Now
No dogs dare sleep in the streets today. The population of this rocky knob has swelled to about 15,000. There are over 7000 students here now, and the campus crawls with coeds. All the male students seem to have wives. And everybody has a car. I am afraid to cross a street, let alone walk in it.

Diapers flap around the arboretum, a leafy necking nook. The wall of infants has replaced the college yell. Students confronted by professors for cutting a class, say blandly that they were up all night with a colicky baby or that mama just produced twins. The professors have no answer.

Everybody seems serious. The kids act as if they had come to school to learn something practical. This was not the general feeling among my set. I came to school to—I do not believe I know what we came to school for. But any learning that rubbed off on us was largely accidental.

There was a great preoccupation with drinking, in my day. We made gin in the dormitories, and home-brew in the fraternity house shower rooms. A magnificent gentleman whose name I won't mention used to supply a vicious beverage called Corange county corn. He was a trusting man, and he would sell on credit. The IOU's we scrawled on his kitchen wall. One day his kitchen burned down, and then occurred the greatest moratorium since we forgave Great Britain for World War I. But our man prospered so greatly that he abandoned the trade, although the county is still dry. He lives in a big house today and is, I believe, a deacon.

There was also a great fondness for the dance. I recall four years of straight party, temporarily interrupted by sufficient classwork, to avoid being shipped home to the farm.

Frivolity Disappears

Much of this frivolity has disappeared. The student body is predominantly ex-GI, still-faced young men who wear officers' pinks with combat jackets, G.I. sunbans and sailors dungarees. The YMCA at coke time, looks like an army. The crap game, nearly non-existent in my time, is an institution now, a hold-over from the service. It is serious crap and seems to be about the only vice I can locate.

There are housing units on the tennis courts, and trailer villages in the woods. The campus has erupted in a rash of new construction. Some students live so far out of town they commute to class. In certain instances a prospective Tar Heel must certify that he has lodgings before he is allowed to register. There is a big Henry Wallace boom on among the students.

None of my old professor friends looks any older. That, I suppose, is the small tragedy of coming back to school. Professors never get older—it is only the students who age.

PREVENTED SOILING

The "antimacassar," or tidy for chair backs, gets its name from macassar hair oil. Women of the last century invented the tidy, and named it antimacassar, because it prevented oily hair from soiling chair backs.

PIN-WORMS NOW CAN BE BEATEN

The miseries of Pin-Worms have been known for centuries, and millions of victims have sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body. Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P-W, the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son.

The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. So don't suffer with the embarrassing rectal itch caused by this ugly pest. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W and follow the directions. P-W means Pin-Worm relief!

Q. I am interested in India and religions. Can you tell me something about Brahmanism?

A. It teaches a belief in a Supreme Being, a Trinity a heaven, a hell and the doctrine of immortality, incarnation, and a divine revelation. The Brahmins have their sacred scriptures, the Vedas, and Vedantas, the Upanishads and the Puranas, and two rather lengthy poems.

Q. How can I remove ink stains from an old wooden table?

A. They may be removed with soap suds. However, sponge immediately with vinegar water and rinse with clear water to prevent damage to the finish.

46th Division Picks Distinctive Insignia

Selection of a distinctive shoulder insignia for personnel of the 46th Division, Michigan National Guard, is announced by Brig. General Harold T. Weber, Royal Oak, assistant division commander, and president of a board of officers named to determine the organization's shoulder patch.

The shoulder insignia favored by the board is in the form of a shield, half maize and half blue in color, upon which is raised a mailed clenched fist which will be in red. The mailed fist would symbolize the Guard's constant preparedness to defend the peace. Members of the 107th Engineer battalion, Upper Peninsula National Guard unit, will wear the shoulder insignia as soon as it becomes available.

Mineral King Lodge No. 129, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen enjoyed an evening social event Sunday in Carpenters Hall. About fifty couples, members and their ladies, danced to the music of the Swedish Merry Makers, and group singing was directed by John Ohman.

Lunch was served by the Fireman's committee. John Auskies, chairman, Fred Soper, Edward L. Larson, Earl Murray and Carl Richter. A talk on railroadings was given by George Harvey, oldest member present.

Attending the party from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pearson and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pearson of Iron Mountain, Albert Pearson and M. N. Meehan of Green Bay.

Nelson-Gorenchan

Miss Marian Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Nelson, 1109 Sheridan Road, and George F. Gorenchan were married in a double ring ceremony performed at 8 o'clock Saturday morning in St. Joseph's church by Rev. Fr. Alphonse, O. F. M.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Joseph Butryn, sister of the bride, Elaine Beck, a niece of the bride, John Gorenchan, the bridegroom's brother and Joseph Butryn.

The bride wore white satin with lace trim and a fingertip veil of illusion and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses and white carnations. The matron of honor wore pink marquisette and the bridesmaid, blue taffeta. Both had matching headresses and carried bouquets of pink carnations. The bride's mother wore black with blue trimming and a corsage of carnations.

A wedding breakfast and a dinner for 45 guests were served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmar Beck, brother-in-law and sister of the bride. The tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bridal couple, centered the pink and blue decorations.

The couple, after a wedding trip to Chicago and Detroit, will live in Marinette.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson of Houghton, Mr. and Mrs. William Moersch and family, of Neenah, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Butryn and son, Jerry Joseph, of Schafter.

Laura McCarthy,
Earl W. Koch
Married Today

Miss Laura A. McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. McCarthy, 322 First avenue south, and Earl W. Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Koch, exchanged wedding vows in a ceremony this morning at 10:30 o'clock, performed by Rev. Fr. Alphonse Wilberding, O. F. M., in St. Joseph's rectory.

The attendants were Mrs. Marianne Utt, sister of the bride, and Lyle J. Utt.

The attractive bride wore a winter white suit with powder blue accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Utt wore a powder blue suit with a halo hat of rose hyacinths and a matching corsage.

A print dress with a coral flowered hat was worn by the bride's mother and Mrs. Koch wore wine with black accessories.

A wedding dinner at the Dells for 50 guests, immediate family members and close relatives, was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Bouquets of mixed flowers were used in the decorations, centered by the tiered wedding cake.

Violet Rheaume,
Arvid Josephson
Married Saturday

St. Joseph's parsonage at Lake Linden was the scene of a pretty winter wedding Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Miss Violet Jeanette Rheaume, daughter of Mrs. John Rheaume, of Lake Linden, became the bride of Arvid Fredrick Josephson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eloy Josephson, of Lake Linden, formerly of Tremont.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. N. J. Raymond officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with a gathered bodice, sweetheart neckline, long tapering sleeves and flowing train. Her fingertip veil of net, trimmed with lace, was held in place by a scalloped crown of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red and white roses and carnations with white satin streamer ribbons knotted with white buds. Her only jewelry was a triple strand of pearls.

Miss Betty Rheaume, sister of the bride, maid of honor, wore pink chiffon and a pink net veil with matching headpiece, and she carried mixed flowers. Mrs. Andrew Blau, sister of the bride, who was bridesmaid, wore blue chiffon with a blue net veil and headpiece and she carried a like bouquet.

Richard Josephson, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Andrew Blau, brother-in-law of the bride, groomsmen.

Little Beverly Blau, niece of the bride, who was flower girl, wore white satin with a net veil and princess crown and she carried a miniature colonial bouquet.

Mrs. Rheaume, the bride's mother, wore navy blue crepe with white lace trim and white accessories and a corsage of pink roses and mums.

Dinner and Reception
A five o'clock dinner was served at the bride's home for immediate family members and a reception and wedding dance, held in the evening at the Legion building.

The couple, after a honeymoon in Detroit, will live in Lake Linden where Mr. Josephson is employed by the Badger Paper company. He is a veteran of 4 years service in the United States Army.

Stephen Fredo has returned from a business trip to Milwaukee.

WINTER SPORTS BOOSTING URGED

Expansion Of Facilities In Upper Peninsula Advocated

Marquette—Calling attention to the breakfast which the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau will give for candidates for the "Queen of the North" title in Marquette Friday, Feb. 20, John I. Keeton, Munising, president of the organization, today looked on development of winter sports facilities north of the Straits of Mackinac as a "constructive step in lengthening of our vacation season."

Fourteen or more communities in the Peninsula are sending their winter queens to Marquette February 19-20 for participation in the annual "Queen of the North" festivities. The breakfast to be given by the Bureau at 9 a. m., February 20 will be only one of many activities planned for the community queens during their two days in Marquette.

Keeton said he believed the most outstanding need in the Peninsula today is provision of high-quality entertainment centers similar to those found in Sun Valley, Idaho; Lake Placid, N. Y.; or Gaylord and other cities in Lower Michigan.

"Hundreds of persons use facilities at Gaylord every night, while winter sports devotees from such Midwestern cities as Cincinnati, Detroit and Cleveland make weekend trips to that area," he declared.

"Resorts in the Gaylord area have been 'Winterized' and I believe we're missing a good bet if we don't follow suit. The encouragement and development of winter sports in this area, the provision of facilities for their enjoyment by our own citizens as well as the thousands of persons from metropolitan centers eager to avail themselves of a winter-time vacation creates an opportunity not only to lengthen our vacation season but to bring additional income into this region and help resorts obtain returns on their investments."

"However, we must provide not only recreational facilities but wintertime housing if we are to attract even a small share of the winter sports enthusiasts now going elsewhere."

North Western Ry. Leads Carriers In Hauling Of Grain

Chicago—The Chicago and North Western Railway System—whose parent company carried the first bag of wheat into Chicago 100 years ago—hailed more grain into this farm trading hub of the nation during 1947 than any other single common carrier.

Figures placing the North Western at the top of the list with a total of 40,317,000 bushels were released today by R. L. Williams, president of the railway based on the annual report of the Board of Trade.

The board also was founded in 1848, after the Galena & Chicago Union railroad, forerunner of the North Western, began bringing ever increasing shipments of grain to the then muddy village of 3,000 persons.

It was this new commerce, Mr. Williams pointed out, that vitally altered the economic life of Chicago, changing it from a city of retail merchants to a trading center where grain was king.

In its 99th year, the Board of Trade figures showed, the North Western also hauled more eggs (2,277,200 cases); more wool (40,929,000 pounds); and more hay (10,337 tons) than any other carrier.

The North Western was a major carrier of livestock, bringing 10,479 cars of all types of animals to Chicago, and ran a close second in transportation of potatoes, meat, butter, cheese, lard, tallow, hides and lumber.

A breakdown of the grain hauled by the North Western during 1947 shows the railway was first in corn with 25,284,000 bushels; oats, 7,050,000 bushels; barley, 3,979,000 bushels; rye, 287,000 bushels, and various amounts of other grains.

Sheep have perhaps the widest range of any domestic animal, being raised in every important country of the world except Japan.

STUDIES LINCOLN—Donald W. Backofen, 1300 Second avenue south, stands before the Lincoln books and mementoes collected in various parts of the country. In his hand, he is holding a miniature replica of the log cabin where Lincoln was born on Feb. 12, 1809. The miniature was made of wood taken from the Lincoln farm in Kentucky.

Escanaba Man Has Fine Lincolnia Collection

Michigan is not rich in Abraham Lincoln lore but the Great Emancipator made one of the most important anti-slave speeches of his career at Kalamazoo on July 12, 1856, according to Don Backofen, 1300 Second avenue south, who has been studying Lincoln's life as a hobby ever since his senior year in Fort Wayne, Ind., high school.

During the past 13 years, Backofen, who is manager of Neisner's store here, has been collecting Lincolnia wherever he can find it. He now has more than 2,000 books, letters, pamphlets, and newspapers along with a virtual museum of relics and mementoes. "The closest Abraham Lincoln ever got to Escanaba was in 1859 when he attended the Wisconsin State Fair in Milwaukee," Backofen recalled. On the same trip, he also gave political speeches at Beloit and Janesville. He previously visited Wisconsin when he served as a company captain in the Black Hawk War in 1832, coming as far north as Whitewater, Wis.

Visits Lincoln Country
Backofen's life ambition is to visit all the American communities where Lincoln lived, practiced law and traveled. He has already visited Washington, D. C., twice, Springfield, Ill., three times, Petersburg, Va., and Lincoln Memorial university at Harrogate, Tenn., to collect data on the Civil War president's life. Last summer, he went to the nation's capital and interviewed Mrs. Dorothy Lamont Teillard, whose father was Lincoln's closest friend. Backofen plans to purchase a movie camera to use in the future in taking pictures of Lincoln memorials in Illinois, Kentucky and other parts of the country.

Backofen became interested in Lincoln when his senior class was studying the Great Emancipator and made a tour of the Lincoln National Life Insurance foundation's rare and complete museum of Lincolnia.

"I began a collection of my own and later entered it in the city hobby show," he explained. It won first prize and that encouraged me so that I really took it up in earnest."

Backofen started off on an individual manhunt that promises to last a lifetime. He contacted every Lincoln expert in the country and talked with them whenever possible. He got himself put on about 100 mailing lists in the chance that something might come his way. He made pilgrimages to every Lincoln shrine that he could manage, attended auctions all over the middle west, haggled with antique dealers, spent hours in discussion and argument with members of the Abraham Lincoln association, of

BUREAU MEETS AT MARQUETTE

Industrial Promotion Will Be Discussed Feb. 24-25

Officers and directors of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, as well as members of the Michigan Economic Development Commission, Secretaries of Chambers of Commerce, personnel of the Michigan Public Service Commission and chairmen of community industrial survey committees are being invited to attend which he is a member. He also belongs to the Illinois State Historical society.

Once the city dump even proved a gold mine. There he found a carved wooden head of Lincoln, sitting on top of a heap of rubbish. He'll never know how it got there and it obviously is of no historical value, but it went into the collection for the day when it can decorate the walls of a private Lincoln room.

"If I ever buy or build a home that's one thing I'll get—a Lincoln room—then nobody can say anything about my collection cluttering up the house."

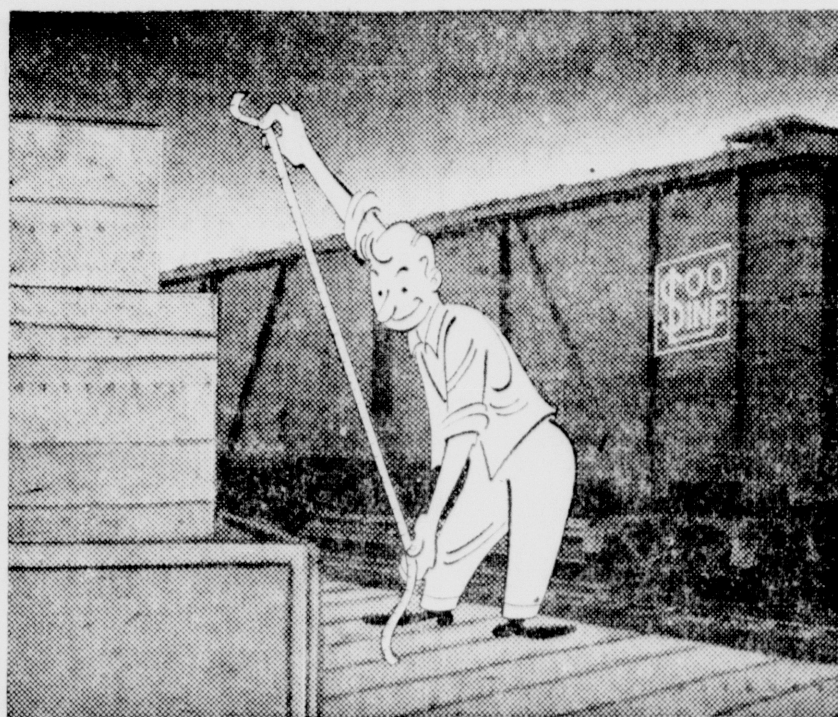

Starting out as late as he did, Backofen realizes that the genuine collector's items are pretty well tucked away in museums and libraries by now. So he's concentrating on the books and pamphlets containing material, on newspapers of the period and a great deal on reprints and photographic copies of original newspapers and photographs.

For instance, he has prints of 25 negatives of the 100 pictures taken of Lincoln during his lifetime. He has the first one, taken in 1846 when the clean-shaven young man was a political freshman up through the last one taken a few weeks before Lincoln was assassinated in 1865. The series presents a remarkable study of how the 20 most important years of Lincoln's life tempered his long lean visage.

Has Lincoln Masks
Backofen has copies taken from actual casts of Lincoln's face and hands, almost a complete set of Lincoln stamps and photographs of handwritten copies of the Gettysburg address. He has one of the original copies of the April 20, 1865 edition of the Philadelphia Inquirer, which carried the story of the plans for Lincoln's funeral with pictures of the coffin and hearse. Backofen prizes highly in particular a copy of Lincoln's original signature on a lithographed portrait of the beloved president. It was given to him by a friend who read an article in a newspaper that Backofen was collecting Lincoln material.

To Start Promptly
At 8:30

The concert to be given by the famous Augsburg College Choir of Minneapolis at Zion Lutheran Church on Thursday will commence promptly at 8:30 p. m., so as to give worshippers attending the Community Lenten Service at St. Alban's Episcopal Church earlier on the same evening an opportunity to attend. There will be no admission charge for the concert but a free will offering will be received for the choir.

The choir is composed of fifty music students of the Augsburg College and Seminary of Minneapolis, one of the oldest institutions of its kind in the northwest. Since its organization in 1933 the choir has toured about 20,000 miles and it has sung in all major cities of the northern part of the United States. The choir is well known for its numerous broadcasts. It is one of the few college choirs that has been presented over an international hook-up to Europe and national hook-ups in Canada and United States. Professor Henry Opseth is the dynamic conductor. He was an assistant of Dr. F. Melius Christianson, world famous director and composer. During the World War he directed the 364th Infantry Band in France.

The choir is now touring northern Michigan and Wisconsin. The choristers will arrive here in their own chartered bus late Thursday afternoon from Hawkins, Wisconsin, and will immediately upon arrival establish headquarters at Ossa Hotel. A reception for the choir members will be held in the parlors of Zion Lutheran Church after the close of the concert. On Friday the group will leave for Cheboygan, Michigan, for a concert there in the evening.

The following selections will be given at the Manistique concert: All Creatures Of Our God And King—C. Armstrong Gibbs. Alleluia, The Disciples Knew The Lord—William Byrd. Glorification—F. Melius Christiansen. O Day Full Of Grace—F. Melius Christiansen.

Intermission
Accept My Heart—L. B. Satern. O Sacred Head Now Wounded—F. Melius Christiansen. Norwegian Christmas Carol—Norman Myrvik. Nicene Creed—A. Gretchaninoff. O God, Hear My Prayer—A. Gretchaninoff.

Intermission
17th Century Christmas Hymn—Hugo Junst. Lullaby On Christmas Eve—F. Melius Christiansen. Lord, Hosanna—Gustav Shreck. A Song In My Heart—Swedish Folk Tune. The City Of Our God—Stanley R. Avery.

Fire Call Sunday to
M. Needham Home

The fire department answered a call to the Margaret Needham home at Manistique Heights Sunday afternoon where embers from a chimney fire had set fire to the roof. While no great damage was done to the house, the fire was of a stubborn nature and a couple of hours were taken up putting out the sparks that smoldered from underneath the shingles.

Mead Corporation
Man Addresses
Local Rotarians

RECENT BRIDE — Miss Betty Tiglas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tiglas jr., became the bride of Harold Popour, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Popour, at a ceremony performed January 31 at St. Francis de Sales church. The young couple are residing on Delta avenue.

Upper Michigan will long be in a position to adequately supply pulp mills of this region with pulp wood, Vince Martin, of Escanaba, with the Mead Corporation, told members of the Manistique Rotary club at its noonday meeting Monday.

Upper Michigan is one of the principal sources of pulpwood in the country, he said, the supply in a large measure going to mills in other states, principally Wisconsin. For that reason, many Michigan mills are required to seek raw material from other states and this, for the most part, has come from Canada.

This importation of pulpwood into areas which have supplies of their own is due to competition which, in the end, has beneficial results. It helps the mill operators to get better quality of pulpwood and also assures the pulpwood cutter to get a better price for his product.

Of Program

Walter Nelson, of the Nelson Cloverleaf Creamery of Manistique, as secretary of the Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers' Association, announces that about two hundred dairymen and supply people are expected to attend the 14th annual convention of that organization which will be held Feb. 13 and 14 at the Northland Hotel in Marquette.

Friday's sessions will be divided among the various dairy industries represented. At 2:00 o'clock, cheese manufacturers will hold a session at which Mason J. Smith, of the Michigan Department of Agriculture will discuss "Pasturizing for Cheese Making." At 3:00 o'clock milk dealers will discuss "Trends in Milk Distribution," and at 4:00, Charles Figy, Commissioner of Agriculture, will speak on the subject "Department of Agriculture and the Dairyman." At 6:30 the annual smorgasbord dinner at Clifton Hotel will be featured followed by special entertainment.

On Saturday Senator Girschbach will preside at a meeting where "Trends in Milk Production" will be discussed. In the afternoon the dairymen will attend a winter sports program.

The annual banquet will be held at the Masonic Temple Saturday evening with Wilbur Treloar presiding as toastmaster. At this time a trophy will be presented to the Upper Peninsula Dairy Plant showing the greatest improvement in 1947. A big entertainment feature at this time will be presented by George Gilbert Groman, Hollywood actor's coach who will tell "How Other People Talk."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Quinlan and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rogers, spent the weekend in Newberry.

Officers of the association are Ben Knass, Marquette, president; William Plasky, Escanaba, vice president; Walter Nelson, Manistique, secretary-treasurer.

On the entertainment and reception committee are Mrs. Ben Knass, Marquette; O. M. Thompson, Neehan, Wis., and Mrs. Malcolm Nelson, Manistique.

Court Orders Man
To Stay Away From Certain Tavern

Leo Kerridge pleaded guilty when he appeared before Judge W. G. Stephens in justice court Monday morning to answer an assault and battery charge preferred against him by E. O. Johnson, operator of the Majestic tavern. The offense in question had taken place Saturday evening. He was fined $5 along with $5 costs and sentenced to ten days in jail. The jail sentence was suspended on condition that he stay away from this particular place of business for a year.

On that same morning Roy Reilly pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. He was assessed a fine of $50 and costs of $5. His driver's license was also automatically suspended.

Refrigeration Company
Taken Over By Ben &
Len Multhaupt

Leonard Multhaupt, veteran counsellor and secretary of the local chamber of commerce, and his brother Ben, local businessman, have taken over the Northern Refrigerator Sales & Service Company of 314 Deer street and plan to turn the establishment into a light hardware business.

For the time being they will operate the business on the same lines as their predecessors George Parsley and Fred Christensen, but the change to hardware is expected in the course of a few days, after the necessary changes in shelving and arrangements have been made and the new stocks arrive.

They will continue to deal in appliances of all kinds and the rug cleaning and sales of a special vacuum cleaner line, which Ben has handled for a number of months will be continued.

They both expressed confidence in the commercial potentialities of Manistique's West Side and the need for the kind of business they are establishing, in that area.

St. Peters Lutheran
To Conduct Special
Lenten Services

Beginning on Ash Wednesday, at 8 o'clock in the evening, St. Peter's Ev. Lutheran Church will hold special mid-week Lenten services, it is announced by the pastor, Rev. Herbert G. Walther. Each Wednesday evening thereafter, throughout Lent, services will be held. Each sermon in the Lenten series will treat the Passion from a different view. The public is cordially invited to attend these services. On Ash Wednesday, Holy Communion will be celebrated, and participants are requested to announce their intention of receiving the Sacrament before the service.

Fayette

Shower Party
Mrs. Edward Spaulding of Puffy Creek was honored by neighbors at the home of Mrs. Alpha Bernard at a pink and blue shower, Tuesday evening. In card games played, Mrs. Wm. Smith won first prize and Mrs. Fred Rochefort the consolation. The guest prize went to Mrs. Jack LaSalle. After a delicious lunch, Mrs. Spaulding received many pretty and useful gifts.

Fishing Hazards
The casualties of winter fishing during the past few years have emphasized the hazards which fishermen have to take if they follow this means of livelihood through the ice. The waters of the lake have been very turbulent for some days, the motion being felt and heard in warning rumbles, whenever fishermen have been working around the peninsula. Some ice actually went out from the Fairport fishing area a week ago and as work was proceeding far from shore Wednesday, the warning motion was detected and heeded. Richard Barbeau rushed to take his truck away from the danger zone but was a moment too late to straddle the crack which been made. The driver escaped impending doom in 130 feet of water by dragging off his overall pants, a leg of which had become entangled.

MUNISING BRIEFS

ATLAS ACQUIRES
PACKAGE PLANT

North Carolina Firm Is Purchased, Company
Announces

Atlas Plywood Corp. facilities for the fabrication of fruit, vegetable and berry trays, baskets and crates have been expanded and integrated further through the acquisition, for cash, by its wholly-owned subsidiary, Marvil Package Co. of Laurel, Del., of the plant and equipment of the Williamston Package Manufacturing Co., of Williamston, N. C., adjacent to some of Atlas' North Carolina timber holdings, it was announced yesterday by Elmore I. MacPhee, Atlas' president.

The purchase brings to six the number of plants operated by the Marvil unit and, Mr. MacPhee pointed out, strengthens its position as the leading Atlantic Seaboard maker of such specialty containers. Marvil's other plants are located in Laurel, Del., Sharptown, Salisbury and Pocomoke, Md., and Suffolk, Va. Atlas Plywood's products—prefabricated plywood packing cases—and their components are produced in 16 plants located in Vermont, Maine, North Carolina, Michigan, Wisconsin and Alabama.

Since the Marvil company's acquisition by Atlas Plywood in November, 1946, Mr. MacPhee explained, part of its raw material requirements—logs—were moved from North Carolina timberlands to the various plants for conversion into veneer and finished products. Now, by cutting and shipping veneer at Williamston and chipping the veneer to the Delaware and Maryland plants, he added, "a considerable saving in costs may be effected."

BY JIM WARD

Escanaba's Eskymos have been losing the close ones this season. They have dropped four by a total of 10 points. This is not good for the record (won four, lost six to date), but it makes the Eskymos a possible potent force in tournament play.

Other teams have been known to have a so-so season and then explode in tournament competition. The most notable example of this is Coach Jim Soli's first U. P. championship team at Marquette.

With Gladstone, Menominee, Manistique and Kingsford remaining on the schedule, the Eskymos hope to build up the win side of the ledger to qualify for a seeded position in the Class B district meet here March 4-6.

Only two teams will be seeded and they will be selected on the strength of their games-won-and-lost record for the season. That constitutes another reason why the Eskymos want to win against the Braves in Gladstone this evening.

CUFF NOTES: Leo Brunelle was enthused about getting the officiating assignment in Marquette, where he anticipated some hot games among those three capable Marquette county teams, Marquette, Ishpeming and Negaunee. Then, he checked the record and discovered that Marquette will have only Class C and D. The Class B and E tourneys in the Marquette county district will be played in Ishpeming. Other Class B district meets will be held in Escanaba, Stambaugh and Houghton.

Six teams will battle it out for Class B honors in the Escanaba district. Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Manistique, Menominee and Escanaba are the old standbys. Newcomer this season is Stephenson, recently elevated from Class C to Class B. St. Joseph of Escanaba, Gladstone and Norway will battle it out in Class C this district.

Ernie Kivisto, of Ironwood, former cage ace at Marquette university, is coaching the Miami, Ariz., high school team. His team is scorching its schedule with 12 victories in 13 starts at a 64.5-point-per-game clip.

When you jump too soon—that is before hitting the takeoff—you go into a somersault in ski jumping. That is what happened to Donald Arzen, Escanaba rider, in a practice leap at Westby, Wis., Saturday. He suffered a broken collarbone when he landed on his shoulder. He was returned to Escanaba Sunday night. Escanaba can well be proud of having four representatives in the Central U. S. Ski association championship meet in Ironwood next Sunday in its first big year of ski jumping. Escanabans leaping will be John Grodesky, Walt Alexander, Ted Belfry in Class B and Fritz Pohlman in the senior class.

Wilho Millimaki and Pinky Anderson, Escanaba Ski club riders, placed seventh and eleventh, respectively, in the Caspian ski meet Sunday. Emmett Levy, also of Escanaba, captured first place in the senior class. Highlight of the Caspian meet was a new hill record of 115 feet set by George Pera, Kingsford, in winning Class C.

An outstanding feature of the Menominee winter carnival and skating derby Sunday was the exhibition skating of that renowned veteran, Pete Dube, of Escanaba, who turned a half mile in 1:20, which is within shouting distance of the world's record for that distance. Dube's showing at the ripe age of 69 is nothing short of phenomenal. You're going to see Pete in action in an exhibition here soon. Watch for the announcement soon.

IOWA, BADGERS TIED FOR LEAD

Wier Scores 34 Points
As Hawkeyes Tip
Illinois, 70-61

Chicago, Feb. 10 (P)—Iowa had cruised into a tie with Wisconsin today for the Big Nine basketball lead and the Hawkeyes' little red-headed hotshot, Murray Wier, had made his best bid of the campaign to overtake Jim McIntyre in the individual scoring action.

Iowa snatched Illinois 70-61 before 16,048 home fans last night behind Wier's production of 34 points and four free tosses for 34 points—his best sharpshooting mark of the title race.

Meanwhile, Purdue upset Minnesota at Minneapolis 53-51 as the Gophers' 6 foot 10 inch center, McIntyre, was held to 13 points, his poorest showing of the season. Iowa's victory placed Coach "Pop" Harrison's outfit even with Wisconsin with a 6-2 record and gave it a chance to capture sole possession of the lead by beating the Hoosiers at Indiana Saturday. Wisconsin will be idle.

Wier, who banged in his 15 buckets in 33 shots, outscored the Illini's Dwight Eddleman by eight points in a great duel. Eddleman, who pumped in another 26 as Illinois lost to Michigan Saturday, slipped into third place in the scoring race with an eight game average of 15.8. Wier's sensational output boosted his mark to a 22.3 average through eight games, while McIntyre's standard dropped from a leading 25.8 to an even 24 in seven contests.

Eddleman replaced Ohio State's Dick Schmittner in third place as the Buckeyes' star was held to four points as Northwestern rolled up a 47-45 verdict at Evanston. Schmittner's average dropped to 15.6.

Detroit Sailor Wins Ice Boating Trophy

Detroit, Feb. 10 (P)—With an assist from old man winter, veteran ice boat sailor Clare Jacobs retained the Stuart trophy today and two Oshkosh, Wis., challengers headed home without completing the 1948 classic.

For the fourth straight day the races on Lake St. Clair were held up yesterday by unfavorable weather, and the contestants and judges decided to call off the competition.

"Too much snow again, not enough wind and now too cold," reported Judge D. E. Prescott of Menominee. "Oshkosh will challenge again next year."

The Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves boxing team will leave Wednesday morning on the C&NW 400 for Milwaukee to compete in the Milwaukee zone competition Wednesday and Friday evenings.

The qualifiers from the Soo, Ontario and Soo, Michigan will arrive in Escanaba this evening to join the boys from Escanaba and Manistique. Marinette entrants will join the group at Marinette.

The Golden Gloves tournament will not be broadcast over the Milwaukee Journal's AM station, WHMJ, but the bouts will be televised over the Journal's new television station.

Boys comprising the Upper Peninsula team follow: Novice division—Fred Bumbacco, Soo, Ont., 112 lbs.; Emmett Fagan, Manistique, 118 pounds; Tim MacGregor, Manistique, 126 lbs.; John Wood, Marinette, 135 pounds; Richard Meissner, Marinette, 147 pounds; John Barr, Escanaba, 160 pounds; and Ed Leask, Soo, Mich., 175 lbs. Open division—Joe Brunette, Soo, Ont., 112 lbs.; Morley Ostertag, Soo, Ont., 126 lbs.; Don Little, Escanaba, 135 lbs.; Albert Mendicino, Soo, Ont., 147 lbs.; Leonard Sharkey, Escanaba, 160 lbs.

Winners Wednesday night will advance to the championship round Friday night. The Upper Peninsula team will headquarter at the Wisconsin hotel. They will weigh in at the Golden Gloves gym shortly after their arrival in Milwaukee Wednesday afternoon.

Louis' Punches Still Fast, Says Leo Matricciani

Baltimore, Feb. 10 (P)—Leo Matricciani—who should know—says heavyweight champion Joe Louis may be a little slower on his feet than a few years ago "but you can't say that of his body or his punches."

Leo, a Baltimore heavyweight, boxed four rounds with Louis in a no-decision four-round exhibition before 3,020 fans here last night.

He went the same distance under the same conditions against the Brown Bomber in 1944, when they were both soldiers in England.

Leo said "Joe hit me pretty hard," a few times and that he had been hurt by a punch to the abdomen in last night's bout.

Gil Dodds Meets A Nemesis—Mumps

Boston, Feb. 10 (P)—Galloping Gil Dodds, who hasn't been caught by rival runners since August, 1943, finally met his nemesis—the mumps.

"I guess this finishes me for the indoor season," groaned the nation's top miler, from his bed in Haynes Memorial hospital.

He is definitely out of the Baxter mile this Saturday at the New York A. C. games in Madison Square Garden.

14 TIGERS HESITATE

Detroit, Feb. 10 (P)—The Detroit Tigers had 14 baseball players still to lead into their contract corral today. Latest to sign was Hal Wagner, 32-year-old catcher who came to Detroit in a player swap with the Boston Red Sox last year. He batted .273 in 1947 and hit five home runs. Twenty-five players have now signed.

DOWS LOSES NO. 37

Midland, Mich., Feb. 10 (P)—The Flint Dows familiar second half letdown had a familiar finish last night as they lost their 37th National Basketball league game, with the Tri-Cities Black Hawks 67 to 63 winners.

PACKERS PLAY BENEFIT

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 10 (P)—The Green Bay Packers and the Washington Redskins of the National Football league will meet here in a benefit football game next Sept. 13.

Greenberg May Sign As Cleveland Player-Coach

Cleveland, Feb. 10 (P)—Hank Greenberg probably will sign a player-coach contract with the Cleveland Indians if the agreement includes a share in operation of the club.

The former American League home run king indicated as much last night, when he came here as Tribe President Bill Veeck's guest at a Baseball Writers' dinner honoring Manager Lou Boudreau.

"I haven't signed yet," Hank told an interviewer, "and before

I take such a step I want to make sure that my association won't be just a one-year proposition as player-coach. I'm looking for something more permanent. I'd like to be associated in the operation of a major league club."

Salary apparently hasn't been a factor in the Veeck-Greenberg talks because Hank said "the matter of money hasn't even been mentioned."

Another conference is scheduled today before Greenberg returns to New York.

Greenberg arrived by plane yesterday afternoon and immediately went into a huddle with Veeck. The two continued their discussions at the Writers' dinner and prompted Toastmaster Frank Gibbons to remark: "This is the first contract conference before 650 people in the history of baseball."

Masterson Resigns As Nebraska Coach

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 10 (P)—Bernie Masterson has resigned as Nebraska football coach after what University Chancellor R. G. Gustavson called "pressure from a segment of public opinion which by no stretch of imagination was unanimous."

His resignation last night, only a week before the tentative date for starting spring football practice put it up to the athletic board of finding an athletic director with full powers to name his own staff.

Munising Oilers Tip
Ishpeming, Cox Over
Weekend

Munising, Feb. 10—Harry's Oilers of Munising continued their winning ways over the weekend, beating Ishpeming Legion, 55-54, in one of the most exciting games ever played here and then tipping Cox's Chevys from Munising for the second straight time.

Harry's cagers lead the Rainbow Basketball league with 10 victories and two losses, against nine wins and two defeats for the Ishpeming five.

The Cox affair was a benefit for the infantile paralysis fund.

SHARE MIAA LEAD

Albion, Mich., Feb. 10 (P)—Albion and Alma shared the MIAA conference basketball lead today after the Britons romped to a decisive 47 to 31 victory last night.

Gladstone, Feb. 10—The Gladstone Braves, smarting from successive losses to the potent Ishpeming and Norway quintets, will be out to gain revenge from the Escanaba Eskymos when the Delta county rivals meet here tonight. The game will be broadcast by WDEC, beginning at 8:30.

When first Gladstone and Escanaba met this season on the Eskymo court, the Escanabans came out on top by a 38-28 margin. The Braves would like very much to reverse this decision.

Both teams were the victims of heart-breakers last Friday night. While Escanaba was dropping a 43-42 game to the Iron Mountaineers, the Braves found themselves on the short end of a 32-30 encounter with Norway.

To date, Escanaba has won four and lost six. Coach Jim Rouman's aggregation looked plenty sharp in beating Sault Ste. Marie, 35-31, the week before the fight-to-take loss to Iron Mountain.

In all probability, Rouman will rely on his usual starting five, Dick Lough and Jim Deane, guards; Warren Gustafson, center, and Gary Abrahamson and Ray Hign, forwards, with Dick Pryal, Ron Johnson, Harold O'Connell, Harold Pearson and Don Carlson ready for utility duty. Hign came through with seven buckets at Iron Mountain.

Coach Eldon Keil will start his usual five, also. They are Doug Madden and LeRoy Brown, forwards; Capt. Cliff Gillis, center, and Chuck Green and Clint Butler, guards.

A preliminary game will begin at 7 between the reserve squads of both schols, and between halves of the main game, a boxing match will be held between Norman Stock and John Mackie. The championship of the East End will be at stake in this fight.

Bethany Still Tops In Church Dartball Loop, Despite Loss

St. Stephen's shaved a game off Bethany Lutheran's four-game lead in last week's play in the Church Dartball league by besting the leaders in the first two of three hard fought games. Scores: 6-5 (13-innings), 7-6, and 5-9.

First Methodist snapped an 11 game losing streak in good style by handing Central Methodist their sixth straight loss. Scores: 1-0, 4-3, 4-3.

This week's schedule: First Methodist at Bethany Lutheran; Central Methodist at St. Stephen's.

Harnischfeger, Mike And City Drug Fives Win League Battles

Harnischfeger, Mike's Bar and City Drug were winners in city basketball league play last night. Harnischfeger defeated People's Bar, 29-23, with Wertz hitting 12 and Needham hitting 11. Mike's Bar stopped State Bank, 33-27, with Bob Dufour collecting 14 points for the victors and Mickey Kuchenberg and Ohman bagging 10 each for the losers.

Harris bowed to City Drug, 43-33, Holt banged in 21 for the Druggers, and LaCosse topped Harris with 16. Dick Schram officiated.

'STIQUE FIVE BEATS FOXES

Berger, Danko Set Pace
For Merchants In
43-40 Thriller

Manistique, Feb. 10—Manistique basketball fans were all agog after witnessing one of the most thrilling games ever seen on the local court. It was Manistique Merchants' 43-40 triumph over the fast Hermansville Silver Foxes, sometimes referred to as the Machalk machine.

The Fox five, a top-ranking contender in the Northern Wisconsin Michigan Basketball league, held a 21-20 halftime lead, but the relentless Merchants ferged into a 35-35 lead in the third quarter and managed to stretch it two points in the finale.

The lead changed hands several times during the third quarter. The fourth session was a thriller. Manistique played cozy with its three-point lead, and Hermansville barely missed tying it up when a lay-up shot went astray in the closing seconds.

Dick Berger and Danko set a sizzling pace for the victors with 20 and 14 points, respectively. Tony Machalk led his mates, including his two brothers, by scoring 16 points.

The teams will meet here Tuesday, Feb. 17.

O'Connor Leading In Puck Scoring Race by 5 Points

Montreal, Feb. 10 (P)—Buddy O'Connor, slim center of the New York Rangers, enjoys a comfortable five point margin in the National Hockey league's individual scoring race today.

O'Connor picked up three points during the past week to increase his front-running total to 47 points. O'Connor also is setting the pace in assists with 27.

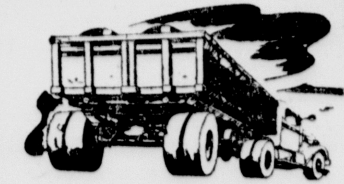

Two other centers, Elmer Lach of the Montreal Canadiens and Mox Bentley of the Toronto Maple Leafs, are tied for runner-up honors at 42 points apiece.

Rookie Jim McFadden and Ted Lindsay of the Detroit Red Wings and Chicago's hard-shooting right wing, are tied for fourth place at 41 points each.

DETROIT PLANTS TO REMAIN IDLE

Gas Shortage Continues; Additional Deliveries Refused By FPC

(By The Associated Press)

Detroit area industries, crippled by a critical natural gas shortage have been refused additional deliveries by the Federal Power Commission.

Idleness for at least another week was in prospect for more than 150,000 workers laid off a fortnight ago when the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company cut off industrial service.

Temperatures dropped below zero again today (Tuesday), and the weather bureau promised no real relief before the weekend, dimming hopes that the gas company would be able to restore deliveries despite the FPC order.

Informed yesterday by Power Commission spokesman that they could not "properly" approve extra gas for Detroit industries when the shortage was affecting homes in other parts of the country, two members of the Michigan Public Service Commission promised to "keep on working with the FPC to see if we can figure something else out."

However, Chairman Stuart B. White and Henry L. Woolfenden, sent to Washington by Governor Sigler to plead Michigan's cause, said they saw little hope of an immediate solution, since "the needed supply of extra gas just hasn't been found."

Joe Baksi Itching For Title Scrap

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—When a first-rate track star comes into California, that's news. You've heard of plenty coming out of the golden state . . . Now Brutus Hamilton, U. of California track coach, admits that his prospects in the mile and two-mile run wouldn't be bright this year if a fellow named Kaare Vefling hadn't turned up from Norway . . . Vefling, who never has had any formal coaching, can run 1500 meters in 3:55 — roughly equivalent to a 4:10 mile—and is strong enough to run two miles the same afternoon . . . Frank Keaney, Rhode Island State basketball coach, bemoans the tendency of some teams to hang onto the ball and refuse to shoot until they have "cripples." . . . Keaney, who goes for bigger and better scores, argues: "There's nothing wrong with the rules or the officials if the coaches will give 'em a good lively game."

Made To Measure

Although National Football League records list Cecil Isbell's toss to Don Hutson in 1942 the shortest touchdown pass on record, Art Daley of the Green Bay Press-Gazette decided to check up the other day. Art recalled that the writers had merely guessed at the distance of four inches . . . Sure enough, Charley Brock, who centered the ball on that play, said that it was nearer two inches than four from the goal line . . . Curley Lambeau was about the same distance from a collapse when Isbell made that pass.

Shorts and Shells

Joe Baksi, still hoping to get back into the heavyweight title chase, is making his training headquarters at his newly-purchased home on Greenwood Lake in New Jersey. Maybe that explains why he's so eager to fight . . . Bill Wilson, 18-year-old outfielder who'll get a trial with Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league, socked eight of his 24 home runs for Anaheim, Calif., last season over the 420-foot center field wall . . . Bobby Locke's wife and daughter are visiting in Pinehurst, N. C., while the South African golfer is hitting the tournament trail. Bobby's plan to take time out to see them was cancelled when he heard about a foot of snow on the Pinehurst golf courses . . . Forty-two drivers have entered the 150-mile Rayson Memorial stock car race over the Beach-Road course at Daytona Beach, Fla., next Sunday.

Cleaning The Cuff

St. Ambrose (Iowa) and Augustana (Illinois) colleges are ending a 55-year-old athletic rivalry tonight with a "rubber" basketball game. Each has won 44 times. Only explanation is that Augustana thinks St. Ambrose is getting too strong . . . A movie company spent 12 days in Orner's gym in Los Angeles filming a FBI picture called "A Street With No Name." Actors included three ex-champs, Gorilla Jones, Hal Dade and Chalky Wright, and assorted other fighters and managers . . . If it had been the real FBI—or the D. A.—shooting, they probably would have found only guys with no names.

MARKETS CLOSE

New York, Feb. 10 (AP)—Major security exchanges and commodity markets throughout the country, with the exception livestock, will be closed Feb. 12 in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

In 1900 only 25 per cent of U. S. cotton textile production was carried on in cotton growing states, but more than 75 per cent is located in such states today.

SECRET NAZI PAPERS WILL BE PUBLISHED

The information bureau charged:

1. A "golden rain of American dollars . . . fertilized heavy industry for Hitler Germany and in particular her war industry."

2. "It was the billions of American dollars invested by overseas monopolies in the war economy of Hitler Germany that re-established Germany's war potential and placed into the hands of the Hitler regime the weapons it needed for aggression."

3. In 1934 Britain and France maneuvered a non-aggression pact between Germany and Poland which was instrumental "in the preparation of German aggression."

The statement asserted that American financial aid to a beaten Germany after World War I enabled the former Reich quickly to re-establish a powerful war industry.

The Soviet statement dwelt at length on the U. S. state department's publication of Nazi documents.

"In order to justify in some way before world public opinion the unilateral publication of this collection of unverified and arbitrarily picked-out record by a Hitlerite official," the statement said, "the British and American press fabricated and circulated an explanation according to which the Russians rejected a proposal of the west to publish jointly the full account of Nazi diplomacy."

The Russians said publication of the documents by the U. S. was done without "careful objective verification" and "could only lead to a worsening of relations between the member states of the anti-Hitlerite coalition."

Thousands Escape By Air As Chinese Reds Near Mukden

Shanghai, Feb. 10 (AP)—A mass flight of thousands from danger spots in China's civil war is straining all available airlines. The only escape from most communist threatened cities is by air.

Americans returned from Mukden, southern Manchuria, say the situation is critical. Government workers, high military officers and moneyed civilians are battling each other to get air transportation to safety.

Claire L. Chennault's civil air transport is flying 17,000 government technicians from Mukden to Peiping. Other lines are carrying similarly heavy loads.

The government's Chinese National Aviation Corp. (CNAC) complained that passengers fight their way onto the planes, and fight even after they are aboard.

Two Officers Spurn Anti-Red Affidavit In Ford CIO Union

Detroit, Feb. 10 (AP)—Two officers of the CIO United Auto Workers Local 600 stood alone today in their refusal to sign non-communist affidavits.

The two—trustee William McKie and guide John Gallo—face ouster proceedings that were avoided by three other local officers who late yesterday signed the affidavits required under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Financial secretary J. G. Cusser said he signed the papers along with William H. Johnson, recording secretary, and Arthur Speed, a two-year trustee, because "we follow the wishes of the membership."

FRANCE-SPAIN BORDER OPENED

Trade Talks Resumed By Two Nations After Two-Year Lapse

Paris, Feb. 10, (AP)—The French-Spanish border was open to commerce today for the first time in nearly two years.

Officially the opening was at midnight, but since no night travel ever was permitted, the first opening was a formality. Barriers were raised briefly and lowered again at Hendaye, France, a Bay of Biscay seaport. Officials of both countries greeted each other.

It was not until after daybreak that border guards re-opened posts closed since March 1, 1946. Then the border actually was open.

Telephone lines never fully set up again after the end of the Spanish civil war in 1939 were being reestablished. Service was resumed at midnight. Rex Brenton, Associated Press traffic chief here, sent the first message, a telegram to check the line to Irun, Spain, near Hendaye.

French-Spanish trade talks were to begin immediately. France is interested in Spanish fruit, fish and textiles. Spain needs fertilizers, machinery and electric power.

make their own agreement. The conciliation service will help if asked. But the government will not stand by while a strike cripples the nation's industry.

Ching said he does not know whether Lewis actually is thinking about a walkout.

"If I could ever say to you what Mr. Lewis has in his mind," Ching told the producers, "I would not wear a hat—I'd wear a halo."

Jackie Horner Back At Piano, Calloused By Peeling Potatoes

Los Angeles, Feb. 10 (AP)—Jacqueline Horner, 15-year-old pianist who ran away to San Francisco a month ago, is back with her mother today and taking the piano lessons she said were robbing her of fun.

Jackie, who was found in a San Francisco hotel with a sailor, told newsmen: "The things I said about mother (Mrs. Clara Horner) weren't so. She didn't make me study and work so hard on the piano that I didn't have any fun. I just made up that story to tell if I got caught."

A juvenile ward in San Francisco until she was ordered returned to her mother, Jackie displayed callouses on her hands and said: "Boy, after all the potatoes and carrots I peeled up there, playing the piano is heaven."

Two Fall Asleep In Truck; Man, 41, Freezes to Death

Princeton, Mo., Feb. 10 (AP)—A 21-year-old woman whose companion froze to death as they spent the night in a truck in near-zero temperatures recuperated today in a hospital.

Miss Lorene Prothero, brought to the hospital suffering from a frozen foot, said she and T. S. Lytle, 41, had fallen asleep after parking the truck, Sheriff Clay George reported.

She awakened yesterday to find Lytle dead, his frozen arm around her neck, the sheriff said. George quoted her as saying she was able to free herself from the dead man's grip only after a struggle.

The sheriff said Lytle, a Joplin, Mo., house mover, picked up Miss Prothero in Trenton, Mo., and came to Mercer county on business. He was married and had three sons, George said.

Old Peoples Home Burned, 21 Perish At St. Johns, Nfld.

St. John's, Nfld., Feb. 10 (AP)—Twenty or more persons died today when fire enveloped an old people's home.

A fire official said more bodies may be found in the ruins of the Hull House structure. It was a three story concrete building which sheltered indigent and ill people.

Some occupants escaped but most suffocated or died of burns while still abed. Nine bodies were found in beds in one room. Some reached windows before collapsing.

The cause of the fire was not known. A 50-mile gale fanned the flames quickly out of control. The weather was below zero.

ANNUAL MARDI GRAS GOES ON FINAL BENDER

president of the Times-Picayune Publishing company, and Mrs. Nicholson.

Rex's parade was sandwiched between two processions of decorated trucks bearing costumed maskers. The Zulu King, ruler of the Negro celebration, rode through town for hours attended by guards carrying spears and dressed in animal skins.

Tonight will see the season's last torchlit float parade, and several balls.

Tomorrow Lent begins.

MOBILE SHIVERS

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 10, (AP)—This historic Gulfport city bundled up in topcoats and furs today for the final day of Mardi Gras as the mercury skidded to freezing.

Even so, the cold failed to affect the warmth of the welcome extended King Felix III, monarch of mirth and merriment as he arrived aboard his royal yacht yesterday.

The appearance of Felix, Robert P. Denniston, signaled the beginning of a reign of joy before the quiet of Lent. He joined his lovely queen, debutante Ann Robinson, in front of the Athelstan club, traditional meeting place.

The celebration ends at midnight tonight.

Polish Girl Gets Prison For Killing In Pickup-Stickup

Redwood City, Calif., Feb. 10 (AP)—Jadwiga Curtin, Polish refugee, must serve one to ten years in prison for a shooting resulting from a saloon pickup.

She and Howard Durham also are charged with operating a pickup-stickup racket. They are scheduled to be tried Feb. 24 on charges of robbing a Stanford University student she lured out of a bar.

She collapsed when she was sentenced yesterday for manslaughter. A jury had found her guilty of shooting George Conner, a salesman she lured from a bar.

The court was advised Jadwiga was afraid she was being sent to an "American Concentration Camp."

The judge explained, through an interpreter, that she was sentenced to Tehachapi women's prison, where an attempt would be made to rehabilitate her. She says she spent several war years in German prison camps because of Guerrilla activities.

She came to the United States to marry a war veteran but deserted him in Havre, Mont., for Durham.

Quick Justice Case Forgotten Man Is Freed at Jackson

Adrian, Mich., Feb. 10 (AP)—Virgil Scott, "forgotten man" in Michigan's original quick justice case, was free today while his more publicized partner, Rene Deg Meerleer, remained behind prison bars.

After serving 16 years in Southern Michigan prison, Scott was placed on five years probation on a manslaughter charge yesterday by Circuit Judge G. Arthur Rathbun.

Along with De Meerleer, the 34-year-old Detroit was originally found guilty of first degree murder in 1932. It was charged that he drove a car with De Meerleer as a passenger on the night gasoline station attendant George Brown was slain.

The youths were arraigned, pleaded guilty and were sentenced the same day.

Fifteen years later the U. S. Supreme Court ordered a new hearing for De Meerleer, and he was convicted of manslaughter. Instead of being freed, however, he was sentenced to six months to 15 years, and now is appealing the verdict.

After the De Meerleer retrial, Scott also was granted a new hearing, and was allowed to plead guilty to manslaughter.

Staff of VA Will Be Cut By 8,500 Before July First

Washington, Feb. 10 (AP)—The Veterans Administration will fire 8,500 of its 200,000 employees before July 1, administrator Carl R. Gray Jr. said today.

He told his assistants this must be done to stay within the $6,100,000,000 (billions) budget President Truman has proposed for the 1949 fiscal year.

Medical services will not be reduced, Gray said. However, 13 branch offices will let go 6,810 administrative workers and the central office—in Washington and New York—must cut off 1,650.

VA employment reached a peak of 226,131 last February. It was down to 200,731 a month ago.
